Higgins, In First Workout, Shows He Has Hard Punch

well, will probably be a hard nut for Jack Herrick the "Kewanee Tiger" to solve. He can hit from any angle, and his blows appear to have the steam behind them. Higgins can take and hand hind them. Higgins can take and hand out punishment, although he does not appear to be the siam bang tear-in fighter. He uses his feet to good advantage, and is also colo headed. Higgins has a shift similar to the famous feint of the late Stanley Ketchel, erstwhile middleweight champion, and is there with a punch. That he is tough and can assimilate punishment was shown when he held out his chip to Bart Gordon and Jaffs Miller, inviting them to wallop him on the jaw at his initial workout at the Apex camp. Higgins boxed two rounds with Gene Payo, wo with Max Halford, two with Jaffa liller, two rounds with "white hops" Miller, two rounds with "white hops" Wilson and wound up with two stiff rounds with Bart Gordon.

Bart Gordon, the Oklahoma middle-weight, if present indications come true, will be a regular "white hope" inside of the next two weeks. Bart now weglhs 178 pounds stripped, Roswell climate and chicken fare being Crowd Sees Herrick Work.

Appearing as if he were ready to step in the ring right now, Jack Herrick worked out before a record crowd at the Stanton camp, Tuesday, Jack is confident of the outcome of the fight. Jack killed off the stock of El Paso white hopes much to the sorrow of brother Joe, who now finds it necessary to climb through the ropes daily and box with the big fellow.

As soon as Higgins completed his work, Joe Herrick hiked to the Stanton camp, and put Jack through the hardest grind which the big fellow has experienced thus far. Three rounds were boxed with Young Wolgast, and three with Billy Gilbert, and three with Joe. At the conclusion Joe boxed a four-round exhibition with Young Wolgast, who is rapidly developing into a classy little fighter.
